

Georgetown Visitation Preparatory School

Financial Aid Supplement Fund

Visitation's Financial Aid Supplement Fund (FASF) helps students and their families pay for some of the additional educational expenses not covered by the financial aid given for tuition assistance. These expenses include required items such as textbooks and uniforms, as well as "extras" —like SAT Prep courses, service trips and college applications—that are integral to a student's personal and academic development and that enhance her Visitation education. Typically, this Fund has provided support for families who have already requested financial aid.

The FASF is administered through Visitation's Student Activities Office. A student—or her parent or guardian—may contact Student Activities Director Mrs. Raynetta Jackson-Clay with a request for supplemental funds. Requests for supplemental funds are also referred to Mrs. Clay by the Business, Counseling, and Admissions offices. These requests are approved by the FASF Standing Committee. Approval of requests is dependent on the budget and number of other requests being considered.

Each request is considered individually. In recent years, the FASF has assisted with the following non-tuition items:

SAT Prep Courses • AP Exams • College Application Fees • Academic Tutoring • Uniforms/Shoes • Class Rings • Field Trips • Club & Sports Fees/Dues • International & Domestic Service Travel Expenses • Books & Supplies • Prom Fees (Ticket, Dress, Other Essentials) • Graduation Fees • Graduation Dress and Alterations • Transportation • Nutritional Snacks • Summer Courses/Programs • Music Classes (Instrumental & Voice) • Conference Fees • Other Expenses That Are Integral to a Student's Visitation Experience

Parents or students with questions about the Fund should contact Mrs. Clay at clay@visi.org or 202-337-3350, x2220.